CONCLUSIONS

The information about machine voting municipalities seems to be "top-secret" in France. No authority appears to provide citizens with any updated or correct list.

The Last updated list from the Senate dates from 2014. No list is provided by the ministry of 'Interior'. https://www.senat.fr/rap/r13-445/r13-44525.html

The most updated list we could find comes from Numerama, a 2017 list (multiple sources as per the links):

Nb: They do not mention Colombes (Haute-de-Seine Department). One of our readers contacted the city and they confirmed they are still using voting machines. We added the city to our list.

NEDAP, the unsecure and technically flawed system has the market majority for voting machine in France, as you can see above.

https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2021/02/ireland-netherlands-ended-electronic-voting-finding-machines-untrustworthy-failed-security-requirements/

The company France Elections (who use NEDAP) announces a list of 71 client municipalities on their website. We found only 69 on their list. http://www.france-election.fr/references.php

We've contacted some municipalities who confirmed they weren't using voting machines anymore. However, one town, Colombes (77,184 inhabitants) are still using voting machines.

We therefore considered the 64 municipalities appearing in the Senate list, Numerama list and France Elections list and added Colombes to end with 65 municipalities using voting machines.

We had 69 references, but contacted only large towns or cities, leaving aside villages or smaller towns: Isbergues (9,038 inhabitants), Cernay (10,790), Plessis Robinson, (22,754), Cuers (8,277).

Who has time to check with 71 municipalities if they are using voting machines? This is normally the work of a free press, which doesn't exist anymore in France (as in the USA, a handful of monopolies own the media with a strongly state subsidized press that publishes only what pleases their sponsor).

Christine Deviers-Joncour whom we featured in our last post found that 67,2% voting machine were voting for Macron. We found this percentage to be 63.08%. t.me/xtinedeviersjoncour/2141

It means that out of 65 municipalities using voting machines, 41 put Macron in the lead, whereas on the national level, out of 35,080 French municipalities, 20,036 put Mrs Lepen in the lead, (57.12%), while Macron was only first in 11, 861 municipalities (33.81%).

▲ UNE INFORMATION IMPORTANTE PASSÉE SOUS SILENCE DEPUIS 6 JOURS

- Au 1er tour

 Le Pen est arrivée en tête dans exactement 20.036 communes
- sur 35.080, soit 57.12% du total!

 Macron, quant à lui, n'est arrivé en tête que dans 11.861
 communes, soit 33.81%.

"An important information hidden since last week. In the first round:

Lepen was first in 20,036 of the 35,080 French municipalities: 57.12% of the total!

Macron, was first in only 11, 861 municipalities, 33.81% of the total.

- Francois Asselineau - https://www.upr.fr

The discrepancy between both results confirms previous suspicions of fraud with the electronic vote.

We compiled all Macron scores in machine voting municipalities, two files are available below (we encourage anyone to verify it). Here is what we found:

- 1/ The discrepancy presented above.
- 2/ Many machine voting municipalities also show abnormally high scores (largely over his alleged 28% average national score), with peaks at + 47% in some municipalities.
- 3/ Compared to 2017, the number of blank votes is quite low (and null votes in manual voting areas). We believe some of these unverifiable variables have been fraudulently transferred to macron.
- 4/ Macron leads is higher in machine voting municipalities than in non- machine voting municipalities, it is the contrary for Lepen whose score is lower than her average national score, pointing again towards manipulation of the electronic vote in macron's favor.

With the two round system and the organized demonization of Marine Lepen, Macron didn't need high scores, he just needed to go to the second round, even with average scores, as long as they were higher than his two main opponents, Marine Lepen and jean-Luc Melenchon.

	# win per candidate in machine voting municipalities	% win / machine voting municipalities	% Who was first in 35,080 French municipalities	machine voting municipalities score % per candidate	National score % per candidate	Difference machine voting / national score %
Lepen	11	16.92%	57.12%	19.36%	23%	-4%
Macron	41	63.08%	33.81%	39.15%	28%	+11%
machine voting municipalities	65

We haven't covered the electronic transmission of he French expatriates votes (1.7 million voters at minimum, perhaps 2 to 2.5 million) using another technically flawed and prone to fraud system, nor the multi-level zero checks system where fully controlled state apparatus are the sole compilers and announcers of the election results. No one, no citizens, no concerned political parties or independent body is allowed to verify the numbers announced by both the Ministry of Interior and the "constitutional" council (the "kangaroo council").

https://ns2017.wordpress.com/2022/04/09/lalart-de-falsifier-les-elections-savez-vous-quen-france-les-votes-de-lelection-presidentielle-sont-compiles-par-les-autorites-sans-quon-puisse-les-recom/

It becomes more and more obvious that Macron didn't make it to the second round which should be a contest between Marine Lepen and jean-Luc Melenchon.

One way to try to tamper the fraud (they will try anyway but the more people act, the less they will succeed) is to use your rights as citizens to control the electoral process and verify the results.

Participate in citizen verification

If you would like to participate in the verification of the results of #Elections2022 by also sending the photo of the minutes of your polling station, you can do so in the following way:
