Moscow. May 17. INTERFAX.RU - The list of agreements of the Russian Federation with international organizations for consideration for their denunciation was sent to the State Duma, said Deputy Speaker of the Lower House Peter Tolstoy.

"The Ministry of Foreign Affairs sent the State Duma a list of such agreements, and together with the Federation Council, we plan to analyze them and propose to denounce them," said Tolstoy on Tuesday in the upper house.

"Russia has left the Council of Europe, now it is on its way to exit the WTO (World Trade Organization) and WHO (World Health Organization), which in relation to our country have neglected all obligations," added Tolstoy.

"There is work to be done to revise our international obligations, treaties that are not beneficial today, but directly damage our country," said the parliamentarian.
